

[Keywords] systemic diseases, dental diseases, medical care, dental care

[Academics] Akihiko Tanimura

[Course aims]

The purpose of this course is to study the relationship between dental diseases and systemic diseases as well as the relationship between systemic diseases and dental diseases, and to understand the roles played by dental care and dental medical research in the maintenance of systemic health.

[Course objectives]

The goals of this course are for the student to be able to:

1. Explain systemic diseases induced or exacerbated by dental diseases
2. Explain systemic diseases associated with dental changes or symptoms
3. Explain the roles played by dentistry and dental medical research in maintaining systemic health

[Course content]

Class	Theme	Content	Academics
1	Classes aimed at achieving the above-mentioned goals will be given, and discussions using clinical cases will be carried out.		Akihiko Tanimura

[Class implementation method]

Combination of face-to-face learning and distance learning

Class implementation depends on the implementation policy of each department (graduate school) or school.

[Grading policies]

Attendance status, contents of publications and presentations

[Textbook]

Will be indicated during class.

[Reference book]

Same as above

[Preparation for course]

Goals will be presented beforehand, and students are expected to prepare for the lessons by using reference literature and textbooks pertaining to dental or other related medical fields.