

Adult Health Nursing

Outline:

In our division, we understand the physical, psychological, and social relationships of adult patients and families from the viewpoint of consumers focused on self-care, and we are conducting education and research nursing practice for people with chronic illness and for people who follow the recovery process from the acute phase. Our division has been performing research on the topics listed below.

Faculty members :

Professor: Yumi Kuwabara, Ph.D.

Associate Professors : Fusa Karatsu, M.S.N.

Kaori Kumagai, Ph.D.

Senior Assistant Professor : Naoki Kanda, M.S.N, CNS

Yuki Takagi, M.S.N.

Assistant Professor : Kanako Ito, M.S.N.

Keita Takahashi, B.S.N.

Naoka Suzuki, B.S.N.

Main research in progress:

- 1) Implementation and evaluation of nursing programs for patients with lifestyle-related diseases
- 2) Compromise with diseases of chronically ill patients
- 3) The actual state and related factors of stigma in cancer survivors
- 4) The effect of exchanges of cancer patients and families on the Internet

- 5) Palliative care in intensive care
- 6) The relationship between nursing care and ventilator-related pneumonia
- 7) Existential well-being of patients with chronic disease
- 8) Disease uncertainty and related factors in Crohn's disease patients

【 Education Field 】

Fundamentals of Adult Nursing
Clinical Pathology and Adult Health Nursing
Practicum in Adult Health Nursing
Clinical Practice of Adult Health Nursing

【 Research Field 】

Chronic Illness Nursing
Critical Care Nursing
Cancer Nursing
Intractable Illness Nursing