

Social Work Course

Course Overview

In the social work course, we emphasize the importance of the social work practice seminar and field placement, which are foundational to social work practice. Our course's objective is for students to develop a sense of human rights advocacy and to obtain practical skills as a social work professional. The four-year curriculum, which covers areas of Certified Social Worker, will prepare students with high-level interpersonal support skills, applicable clinical skills, and ethical values.

Faculty members

Prof. Ryo Takahashi

Research Field: Gerontology

Education Field: Social Work, Methods of welfare education

Associate Prof. Yasuhiro Maki

Research Field: Social Work

Education Field: Social Work in Health Care Service

Associate Prof. Masao Miyamoto

Research Field: Community Development

Education Field: Community Welfare, Research in Social Welfare

Assistant Prof. Hironobu Katayama

Research Field: Child Welfare

Education Field: Child Welfare, Social Work with Families and Children